

IMPORTANT:

With the recent devastating floods in Thailand effecting a large majority of the hard drive manufacturing plants, a shortage of components for both desktop and laptops is now being felt around the globe. In anticipation of this shortage we are carrying additional stocks of PCs, Laptops and also hard drives but these won't last forever so if you are planning on upgrading talk to us today so we can help you pre-plan for any upgrade work. The predictions are that these shortages could run well into next year as the Thailand IT industry struggles to get back on its feet. As reported last month, something like a ¼ of the worlds hard drives are manufactured in Thailand so you can appreciate how a disaster of this size can effect stock levels. I will keep you posted.

Until next time all the best
